Editorial Comments.

Galveston, Tex., had a $900,000 fire the first of the week.

R. H. Soaper, the "Corn King" of Henderson county, has planted 3,000 acres.

Gen. Benavides has been sworn in as provisional president of Peru and has formulated a cabinet.

A farmer at Mt. Vernon, Ind., has a domesticated zebra that does the work of a mule on his farm.

The Colonel has returned and as soon as he rests up a little will be ready to settle the Mexican trouble.

President Wilson has run a wire into the White House and will put the "me" in the mediators in Canada.

The Louisville council has appropriated $500 for making diamonds for the amateur ball players in various parts of the city.

The state courts have decided that newspaper popularity contests are not lotteries, but the postal authorities have to be reckoned with.

The County Judge has exclusive jurisdiction in Juvenile Court cases, according to an opinion just handed down by the Court of Appeals.

Former Senator Jos. B. Foraker has formally announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for United States Senator from Ohio.

Life imprisonment was the sentence imposed on W. C. Walters, recently convicted of kidnapping five-year-old Robert Dunbar in Louisiana.

Conditions in Mexico City are growing worse every day. Huerta's best chance is to ask Gen. Funston to come and get him before the others do.

The defense is now attempting by numerous witnesses to discredit the previous statements of the gamblers, who have sworn that Becker inspired the plot to kill Herman Rosenthal.

The P's were right in it in the Pennsylvania primary to nominate a Senator. Penrose, Republican; Palmer, Democrat, and Pinchot, Progressive, were the three nominees.

Ten members of the Smith family are still missing in Mexico. In stirring up our Smiths, Huerta is treading on dangerous ground. There are more Smiths in the United States than there are white people in Mexico.

It has been established by the testimony of an eye witness that Private Samuel Parks, of Wabash, Ind., was shot to death in his uniform without a trial by Mexican soldiers. Crazed by the heat, he wandered into the Mexican lines and was murdered.

Grey Woodson has bought the old government building at Owensboro as the new one is about to be occupied. It cost $75,000 or $80,000 in 1891 but the lot 100x130 feet proved to be too small for a court room. Woodson has not made the price public. He says he bought it as an investment.

Former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, now 79 years old, is now at the home of his daughter in Chicago, undergoing treatment and evidently nearing the end of his long and honorable career. He was born in Christian county, Ky., and was last here in 1892, when a candidate for Vice President.

Dr. Urrutia, Huerta's former minister of the interior, has escaped in disguise from Mexico City and followed by his wife and eight children has appealed for protection to Gen. Funston, at Vera Cruz. He is very bitter against the dictator and says he was preparing to have him shot. He also predicts the early collapse of the Huerta regime. Urrutia found himself so unpopular in Vera Cruz that the Mexicans tried to mob him.

SCENE SHIFTS TO NIAGARA

Mediation Conference Actually At Hand Relaxes Activity in Mexico.

PRESIDENT IN CLOSE TOUCH. Special Wire to White House--Anxiety Unrelieved Over Consul Silliman.

Washington, May 20.—With mediation proceedings removed to Niagara Falls, Ont., activity here in the Mexican situation has notably relaxed.

With the arrival late last night from Washington of the two American delegates, Justice Joseph R. Lamar and Frederick W. Lehman, the personnel of the conference awaited for its completion the third mediator, Eduardo Suarez, the Chilean minister, and the three Mexican delegates.

A special telegraph wire from the headquarters of the American representatives at Niagara Falls to the White House was installed to keep the President in close touch with every step of the proceedings. All important questions will be submitted to the President before the American representatives take any action. There was every indication at the White House that officials do not expect a prolonged conference.

President Wilson and the cabinet discussed conditions but there were no notable developments relating to Mexico. In the senate brief debate was precipitated when Senator Williams, of Mississippi, read a letter from a government official at Vera Cruz, whose identity he withheld, stating that "the noisiest things in Mexico were American dollars."

Anxiety over persistent lack of information as to American consul Jno. R. Silliman at Saltillo, and ten members of the Smith family reported held at Tonola, Chiapas, continued at the state department, and diplomatic efforts to obtain definite reports were pressed.

The state department, in response to an urgent message, received a report from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City stating that representations had been made to the Mexican foreign office several times concerning the Smiths, and that the Brazilian minister had urged the British consul at Chiapas to use his good offices to secure the release of the Americans. Broken railroad communication between Mexico City and Saltillo was accepted as the reason for the failure to hear from Silliman, although the arrival of a train in Mexico City from San Luis Potosi without him caused disappointment.

TURNING UP THE INSIDE

Ex-President Mellen Tells Commission of Domination of Financier.

Washington, May 20.—A story of the late J. P. Morgan's absolute domination in affairs of the New Haven railroad, of the spending of millions in awe and ignorant silence at the command of the all-powerful financial ruler, was told to the interstate commerce commission by Chas. S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven. It was the most extraordinary chapter yet unfolded in the commission's inquiry into the alleged exploitation of the great New England railroad and disappearance of fortunes from its treasury through acquisition at extravagant prices of subsidiary properties.

There was not time in a single day in which to crowd details of all the incidents and events dealt with in the witnesses' testimony. He barely touched on some of the big things paving the way for exhaustive questioning that will continue tomorrow.

Particular interest was aroused by Mr. Mellen's account of his conference with the then President Colonel Roosevelt, respecting the acquisition of the Boston and Maine. He explained that he was a great admirer of Col. Roosevelt, and frequently conferred with him about important questions. Col. Roosevelt said to him at that conference, according to the testimony, that he was not a lawyer and was not prepared to advise with him on the proposed purchase, but on Mr. Mellen's statement of the situation he thought there might be nothing objectionable in it. Mr. Mellen added that the President said he could countenance no illegal action in the matter, and suggested that he confer with Commissioner Lane, of the interstate commerce commission. From Mr. Lane he said he got no expression of opinion.

LUMBERYARD'S EARLY FIRE

Ruby Company's Plant Destroyed and Entire City Is Threatened.

Madisonville, Ky., May 20.—Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock fire broke out in the lumber yard of the Ruby Lumber Company and raged for several hours. The fire started in an ash heap. The loss of the company is about $40,000, with insurance to cover its loss.

The Spring Lake Ice Company's plant is within the same square and adjoining the yard and was on fire several times. A telegram was sent to Earlington for the assistance of the fire department. Earlington responded and the fire company drove to the city, a distance of four miles over hills in a few minutes.

The business section of the city was saved only because the wind was from the north and west, for if it had changed, the business center might have been lost.

Less Whisky Used.

Lexington, Ky., May 20.—Kentucky distillers are nearing the end of the distilling season, with a tremendous reduction in the output. The Taylor distilleries in Frankfort closed down Tuesday and announced that they would still further limit their output, which they have been reducing. The Pepper distilleries of this city will make their last run June 4, and their production for the season will be greatly reduced. Prohibition activity is given as the cause.

Mrs. Thomas' Father.

Dr. Nathan Anderson, father of Mrs. J. T. Thomas, of this city, died at Wilson, N. C., Monday aged 77 years. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were in route to Wilson, but arrived after his death. He was a prominent and successful physician.

TWO MORE SUITS FILED

Against Christian County Farmers by Planters' Protective Association.

ALLEGATIONS SAME IN BOTH. Ten Similar Suits Were Filed Here About a Week Ago.

The Planters' Protective Association has filed two more suits here against farmers for damages, alleging breach of contract in selling their tobacco pooled with the Association. The defendants are Silas Davis and O. M. Barnes, the amounts sued for being based on charges of $1.50 per hundred pounds of tobacco for the crop grown in 1913. The petition states that Mr. Barnes raised 8,000 pounds and Mr. Davis 12,000 pounds. The amounts would be $120.00 and $180.00. Ten similar suits were filed here against Christian county farmers a week ago, making a total of twelve.

NEW POST STAMPS READY

In Denominations of Seven, Nine, Twenty and Thirty Cents.

Washington, May 20.—The postoffice department has sent notice to postmasters that the department is prepared to issue five new denominations for ordinary postage stamps, four of which never have appeared in any issue. The denominations will be seven-cent (black), nine-cent (maroon), twenty-cent (light blue), and thirty-cent (vermillion). The new stamps are to be of the same size and shape as the 1911 issue and intended primarily for use in the parcel post department, although they may be used for ordinary mail matter.

The seven-cent stamp will bear the head of Washington in profile, from Houdon's bust, looking to the left. The border design is the same as the first denominations of the current series. The other new stamps bear the head of Franklin in profile, from Houdon's bust looking to the left. These denominations have the same border design as the current eight cent to one dollar stamps.

Instructions have also been sent to the postmaster to see that senders of parcels presented for insurance or for collection on delivery are requested to state the nature of the contents and that the indorsement "Fragile," "Perishable," "Eggs," etc., are made on such parcels as required by the new regulations, before dispatch.

SURPRISE WEDDING

Miss Mary Wallace Becomes The Bride of Mr. Horace M. Wilkins.

The marriage of Miss Mary Wallace to Mr. Horace Morse Wilkins, at nine o'clock Monday night, came as a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the pretty bride. Mr. Wilkins was known to be an accepted suitor, who had made frequent visits here with matrimonial intentions, but when he dropped in Friday no one outside of the family circle knew that he would take a bride away with him. The wedding was a quiet home affair, with only a few close friends present. Miss Lizzie Nourse played the wedding march and the couple unattended descended the stairway and stood before Rev. C. H. H. Branch, of the Westminster church, who pronounced the ceremony that linked their destinies. The house was prettily adorned with lilies and ferns. The bride wore a beautiful blue silk coat dress and carried a bouquet of Bride roses and sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins took the 10:20 northbound train for St. Louis and Chicago and from there will go to New York and proceed by ocean steamer to Houston, Texas, where the groom is engaged in the banking business and is prominent in business and social circles.

The lovely girl he has won as his bride, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wallace and has been a reigning belle for several seasons. She met her future husband while on a visit to Houston a few years ago and it was a case of love at first sight on the part of the young man, who at once became an ardent suitor.

CONTESTS ARE LEGITIMATE

Newspapers Can Have Popularity Contests Says Higher Court.

Frankfort, Ky., May 20.—The court of appeals has decided that newspapers have the right to carry on popularity contests, and under the statute these contests are not in violation of the lottery law. The case was decided from Crittenden county, wherein the Commonwealth appealed in the case decided in favor of one Jenkins.

NOTHING DONE

Towards Enforcing The Payment of $2,700 of Street Warrants.

Up to yesterday, no suits had been brought against the seventeen property owners who have refused to pay the apportionments on the bitulithic streets completed in December 1912. The city was under contract to cash the warrants and enforce the collection of the claims which now amount to $3,000 with the interest for 18 months included. Today is the last day that the city can file suits for the June term of court which is the last court before the city goes into the Third class.

It has been more than six months since the warrants became delinquent and under the law the entire claim against each delinquent is due and collectible by enforcing liens on the property.

Neat Little Sum.

The recent Carnival netted Co D the handsome sum of $600.10, in spite of the inclement weather a part of the week. They expect to give a big barbecue in the near future and entertain those who helped them.

TO PULL FOR GOOD STREETS

The H. B. M. A. Will Start The At Meeting Friday Night.

COMMITTEE TO BE NAMED. Getting Ready For Greater Things When We Enter Third Class.

The Hopkinsville Business Men's Association will hold its regular meeting tomorrow night and the principal business matter will be the question of improved streets in Hopkinsville. President Cooper will announce the make-up of the committee he was authorized to name and the committee will be expected to see the people on the principal streets and get them to agree to a plan by which the property owners will pay for the streets and the city for the intersections.

The streets that it is desired to improve are Main from the Cemetery to the Southern limit, Virginia from First to limits, Campbell from Seventh to 18th, Walnut from Ninth to L. & N. Railroad, Seventh from Main to eastern limits and Ninth from L. & N. depot to eastern limits. The streets can be built for about $2.50 per front foot to the center of the street, on streets 33 feet wide.

HEAVY DOCKET IS INDICATED

Appearances For June Term Already Twenty Per Cent. More Than Last Year.

Tomorrow is the last day for filing suits for the June term of circuit court which will commence here Monday, June 1, for a term of four weeks. Up to noon yesterday about one hundred suits had been filed, and this number will probably be increased to 125 before the time limit for filing actions expires.

Last year there were only 86 appearances for the June term. The docket for the approaching term will probably be larger than usual.

SUES L. & N. ROAD.

He states in his petition that when he purchased a ticket here for Moore's station that he was assured that No. 51 would stop at that point. He further states that after his ticket was taken up he was informed by the Conductor that he would have to get off at Trenton, which is four miles from Moore's and that he was forced to get off at that place and that he walked the rest of the way home.

He alleges humiliation, mortification, etc., and asks damages in the sum above stated.

The war and navy departments plan to equip their aeroplanes with rapid fire guns for use in the event of hostilities in Mexico. Tests of this gun were made last year at College Park, Md. At a height of 250 feet with the biplane going 50 miles an hour, Capt. Charles DeForest Chandler hit a target six by eight feet with 70 of each 100 shots fired.

that he has been notified by the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs
that the death of Private Samuel Parks, the American soldier reported to have been tortured to death by Mexican troops, would be investi-

President Wilson told the Ameri-

States government regards the settlement of the Mexican problem in a definite form as a prerequisite

from a passenger train at the depot
in January, 1913, and was crushed
by the steps of the coaches.

Martin Fehn cannot become a naturalized citizen of the United States for the next five years. He applied in the federal court at Chattanooga, but Judge E. T. Sanford held up his naturalization, because of the fact that he was recently charged with violating the laws of the state of Tennessee by selling liquor illegally and served a workhouse sentence.

The Jew is still doing his part in every phase of our national life. One brought back to Chicago for burial,

the crowd at the funeral was so great that a panic was created in the

A Splendid Tonic.

Cora, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says: "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women.
It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.

Gate of Tears.

The straits Babelmandeb, the passage from the Persian Gulf into the Red Sea, are called by the Arabs the "Gate of Tears." These straits are very dangerous in rough weather. The channel is very rocky, and is only about twenty miles wide. It received its melancholy name from the number of shipwrecks that occurred there.

HEMLOCK IS DEADLY

Water Species Most Poisonous
Plant of Temperate Zone.

However, Its Tops and Seeds in Hay
Will Not Harm Cattle, as the Roots Contain Most of the Poison.

Washington.—Although the roots of the plant known as the "water hemlock" contain a deadly poison, its tops and seeds in hay will not harm cattle, according to scientists of the United States department of agriculture. These scientists, whose specialty it is to investigate plants from which drugs and poisons are taken,
have been compiling data on this plant, which is one of the most deadly known in America. The department has just issued a bulletin (No. 69)
containing a comprehensive statement of these experiments and entitled
"Cicuta or Water Hemlock."

Besides its scientific name "Cicuta"
and its more popular name "water hemlock," the plant is known in various localities as "cowbane," "wild parsley," "snakeroot," "spotted hemlock," "snakeweed" and "beaver poison." In New Mexico it has been known as "pecos." The plant has also popular German names, as it is found in Germany.

The plants grow in wet places such as swamps and irrigating ditches in nearly all of our northern and western states. When the root of the plant is cut open drops of an aromatic oil are seen. These give the root a peculiar odor and are popularly thought to be the source of the poison. The poison is indeed in the root, but is secreted in the form of a resin which is distinct from the oil. Although the poison is most deadly, the fact that it is confined to the roots rather than extending to the tops and seeds accounts for the fact that it causes but comparatively few deaths. The total loss from such weeds as "loco" and
"larkspur" is much greater.

There have been relatively few human beings poisoned by this weed in America. Most of those afflicted have been children who have been poisoned
in the spring, when the dangerous element in the plant seems most active.
Cases of such poison are recorded in Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Ohio, Kentucky,
Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin,
Minnesota, Iowa, North and South
Dakota, Arizona, Nevada and Utah.
The total number is very small, five cases for instance, having been reported in one year in Montana, of which four were fatal.

Cases of cattle poisoned in this country have been noted in Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and North Dakota. Individual owners of stock have occasionally lost very heavily. One man in Oregon estimated the loss in his immediate neighborhood for one year at ten per cent.
Another estimates the average annual loss in Oregon at 100 head. The loss of 30 head of cattle and 80 sheep
was reported one year in Montana.
The losses are of course inconsiderable, compared with losses from other causes.

It is usually assumed that a plant containing an element having such a pronounced effect on the human organism has useful medicinal properties. Much attention has been given, to the violent poison of water hemlock. It has been known in Europe since the middle of the sixteenth century and has been tried as a remedy for various diseases with various effects. In Norway it has been used for gout. It has even been used as a poultice for local pains. American Indians, when tired of life, are said to have poisoned themselves with it.

The dangers that accompany its use
may be drawn from the following description of the results of water hemlock poisoning: There is first a pain, particularly in the stomach, but it may be general in character. Nausea is sometimes followed by violent vomiting or spasmodic attempts to vomit without result. Dilated pupils, diarrhea, labored breathing, frothing at the mouth and gnashing of the teeth, are other symptoms. Convulsions may be followed by unconsciousness or death. The symptoms in the lower animals are like those in man, except that they are less marked. Only a small quantity of the poison is necessary to produce death with all its attendant agonies.

The symptoms as described above
are quite different from those produced by the drug plant called hemlock, with which the ancient Greeks were familiar. A description of the death of Socrates from the Greek hemlock poison is given in great detail by Plato. The Greeks used this poison to do away with criminals; it was also used by suicides. The "water hemlock" of more temperate regions was probably given its name merely because it resembled the Greek plant in being deadly poisonous. There is no actual relation between the two plants.

As patients have usually recovered
when attempts to vomit were successful, the logical remedy is considered by scientists to be an emetic. If this is given promptly with the first symptoms a favorable recovery may be expected. The emetic is logically followed by a cathartic to rid the body completely of the dangerous principle.
When convulsions are violent some form of opium may be given to control them, but the main reliance must be placed upon the emetic. This has been the treatment used throughout the whole history of poisoning from this plant.

Little can be accomplished for poisoned live stock, as the convulsions are so violent that it is difficult to give any remedy. Hypodermic injections of morphine to control the convulsions have been recommended by certain authorities, who advise giving sheep one and one-half grains, and the cattle and horses three to ten grains.

Idle laws are worse than no laws at all. Their lack of enforcement is a menace to all laws
Enforcement of which it is desired
Sanitary Laws. to enforce, and instead of

strengthening the hand of the administrator they act as a deterrent to efficiency.

This is the opinion of Dr. W. C.
Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the United States public health service. Dr. Rucker's views were given upon the administration of public health laws, but many public officials will be willing to let them apply to all laws which are poorly enforced.
Speaking of the factors upon which the efficiency of public health administration depends, Dr. Rucker says:

"One of the most useful things which could be done in furthering the cause of public health would be a revision of the sanitary law, and the repeal of laws which are impractical
of administration, or which, if administered, would defeat the purpose for which they were enacted. It may be argued that this would be a tearing down rather than an upbuilding process, and that, in repealing these defective laws, nothing would be placed in their stead.

"In the great mass of sanitary legislation at present to be found on our statute books there is one noticeable omission. Few of the states have an efficient law for the collection of morbidity statistics. We have been marvelously illogical with regard to our vital statistics. We have collected data upon births, marriages and deaths, none of which conditions is particularly dangerous to the public health, and have almost entirely lost sight of the sick man, who is the point from which most human diseases are disseminated.

"Once a person is dead his danger-ousness is lost, and so far as practical he is an almost negligible factor. It is the living carrier of disease which is dangerous. Morbidity reports, particularly of the communicable diseases, show the location of cases which constitute foci from which disease may be spread to the well. The collection of morbidity reports thus makes it possible to know where to take the proper precautions for the protection of persons who may be exposed to a given disease, and therefore acts as a prophylactic measure for the community at large.

"This has an intensely practical bearing, because it not only makes it possible to prevent the spread of disease, but also enables this to be done at the minimum expense and with the minimum of effort. This is efficiency in its highest phase. There is also a humanitarian aspect of the question.
The knowledge of the occurrence of disease makes it possible to see that the sick receive proper treatment, not only from a preventive, but also from a curative standpoint."

"The proportion of the wholly illiterate adults among the population of the United States
Nation Disgraced is a national dis-

eliminated," declared a unanimous report recently from the house education committee on the Lever bill to investigate illiteracy. The bill, which carries no appropriation, authorizes the commissioner of education to cooperate, in a concerted movement involving field and clerical service, with the states, individuals and associations to "obliterate the stain and reproach
of illiteracy."

Commissioner Claxton of the federal bureau of education has expressed the belief that illiteracy could be cut to a fraction of one per cent, and Representative Towner of Iowa in submitting the committee report, predicted it would be accomplished with little delay.

The report of the commissioner shows the number of illiterates in the United States to be 2,184,954 whites
ten years old or more at the census of 1910, exceeding the population of the country in 1800. The distribution ranges from 17 per 1,000 people in Iowa to 290 per 1,000 in Louisiana. In the South, the report adds, the percentage is highest in the rural districts, and in the North it is highest in the cities. Boston has 24,468 illiterates over ten years old.

"There are 2,273,603 illiterate males of twenty-one years and over in the United States," it pointed out, "or enough to determine any national election at any period of United States history." France, by quick, concerted action, reduced its number of adult illiterates from 45 in 100 to 5 in 100
the report adds.

Foxes That Climb Trees.
California foxes can climb trees, according to A. M. Powell in an article in Outdoor Life. Mr. Powell says:
"That California foxes can climb trees has been proven to my satisfaction. I once doubted their ability to ascend any but leaning trees or those with spreading limbs, but I finally found that my bounds treed them when trees were straight and it was forty feet to the first limb."

The Newest Superdread-naught of Our Navy.

When the new "Texas" sailed from Hampton Roads on her first trip in commission recently she was the most powerful battleship flying the Stars and Stripes. Ten 14-in. rifles from her main armament, and twenty-five 5-in. rifles comprise the secondary battery, and the big guns send a 1,400-lb. shell over 12 miles, with a penetration at 5½ miles of 16-in. of Krupp armor. The guns are so arranged in electrically controlled turrets that the ten 14-in. guns may be fired simultaneously. The "Texas" is of 27,000 displacement, 573 ft. long and 95 ft. beam. The June Popular Mechanics Magazine contains a page view of the "Texas."

PASSING OF THE CORONER.

The city of Greater New York is about to turn that officer left over from the middle ages, the coroner, almost out of business by a bill for that purpose now pending before the state legislature. It will give the most important of his duties into the hands of expert medical men, a chief medical examiner and a staff of assistants. The duties of coroners after January 1, 1915, will, if the bill passes, consist only in the holding of inquests in such cases as are brought before them by the district attorney and the coroner's jury will be abolished, thus doing away with this absurd and useless survival of a bygone age.

NOTICE Of Election Of A School Trustee.

I have remained on the county board of Education long enough to be satisfied that the present county Superintendent, Prof. L. E. Foster, will endeavor without prejudice or favoritism to conduct the Educational interest of the county in a manner insuring the hearty support and approbation of practically all interested in better schools for our children. I, therefore, do not deem it necessary to remain on the county board longer than August. I would beg all the patrons and friends of Newstead school to meet me at the school house on Saturday, May 23, between the hours of two and three o'clock p. m., and elect some one to serve out my unexpired term of one year, from Sep. 1, 1914, to Sep. 1, 1915, as trustee of sub-district No. 1, division No. 5.

The "Treasure of the Lowly" is the supreme undiscovered treasure, that is why Masterlinck writes of it with a golden pen. ### Sugar Cane.

Sugar cane is a species of grass. The stalks or canes resemble corn stalks of regions further north. Great quantities of cane are grown in Louisiana and other southern states. As the canes approach maturity they throw out a long smooth hollow joint termed the arrow. As the joints ripen the leaves wither and fall away with the stem. The juice is extracted by being pressed in a sugar mill between several heavy rollers. The juice is forced out by pressure and is immediately boiled down to prevent fermentation.

BODIES THROWN IN SEA

Four Survivors Picked Up After 13 Days of Suffering.

Halifax, N. S., May 18.—After thirteen days of terrible suffering in an open boat, four survivors of the freight steamer Columbian were picked up in the north Atlantic by the United States revenue cutter Seneca yesterday.

Eleven others of the boat's crew, which left the Columbian when she was burned south of Sable Island, May 3, had succumbed to injuries and privations, and their bodies had been thrown overboard. The death roll of the lost freighter now stands at fifteen.

Twenty seven other "members of the crew" were saved by the Cunard liner Franconia and the steamer Manhattan after two days of exposure.

Mayor of South Fulton Killed.

Fulton, Ky., May 20.—J. H. Swann, mayor of South Fulton, Tenn., was found dead on the tracks of the Illinois Central Railroad a short distance from his home about 11 o'clock last night. His head had been severed from his body, and was found about twenty feet from it. He had left his place of business in this city to return to his home in South Fulton, on the other side of the state line, a short time before his body was found, and it is supposed he was struck by a train and run over. He was one of the most prominent citizens of this section. He was 34 years old, and is survived by a wife and two children.

Warren Chooses Mud.

Bowling Green, Ky., May 20.—The election whether or not to vote $504,000 in bonds for good roads was held Tuesday. Twenty precincts out of twenty-nine were heard from last night and the vote stood five hundred against the issue. It takes two-thirds majority to carry. A small vote was cast.

Nudest of the Nude.

(New York World.)

Most discussed of the season's art products is a problem statue entitled "The Women of 1914," carved by a cousin of the king, Countess Feodora Gleichen, who has her studio in St. James' palace. According to the royal sculptress, the woman of 1914 is the nudest of the nude, beautifully limbed, slim of figure, standing in a drooping attitude of supple grace with her right arm skimbo, while from her left hand depends a little vanity bag, her only adornment. Though the figure is that of a girl of 20, the pose is one of quiet but provocative effrontery and the face, finely modeled, has an expression anything but virginal. It typifies vividly the twentieth century go-as-you-please, pleasure-bored, "been there-and-back" young society woman, the quintessence of worldliness steeped in self-admiration. The face resembles that of a youthful viscountess famed for her beauty, but there are numerous claimants for the figure, for which several forward and much photographed smart society girls were inspected unclothed by the countess. Each of these bashfully claims that it is a speaking likeness of her own form, but the countess maintains that it represents not one person, but a type. It is rumored that when Queen Mary saw the photographs of this royal art work she threw up her hands in horror of the public getting an idea that any royal person ever saw another with nothing on. She still cherishes the ancient notion that the vulgar herd dares not imagine otherwise than that royal ladies are finished off like bouquet holders.

Is Sale of Jersey Cattle Next Saturday.

Mr. M. W. Blair, who had advertised a sale of Jersey cattle to take place at the Pennyroyal Fairgrounds next Saturday, disposed of the bunch by private sale yesterday and the sale will not take place as was announced.

Three Bank Robbers

Hemmed in Woods.

Spokane, Wash., May 19.—Three bandits who today locked the cashier of the state bank of Spangle, Wash., in the vault and escaped with $4,000 or $5,000, tonight were surrounded in the woods four miles from Waverly, Wash., after being trailed by bloodhounds. O. W. Newton, cashier, was alone in the bank when the three men entered. They forced him into the vault and locked him in. The robbers then locked the front door, gathered into a sack all of the money in sight, walked out the bank door and disappeared in an automobile. When the car got out of order the robbers abandoned it.

Auto Kills Boy.

Louisville, Ky., May 20.—Henry Kiefer, 13, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by an auto belonging to James B. Camp. The accident occurred at Third and York streets. According to Minor Satterfield, Camp's chauffeur, the boy darted in front of the car while the machine was moving at moderate speed. The lad was picked up unconscious. He died in a physician's office twenty minutes after the accident. Kiefer's mother and three sisters survive him.

Jumped To Death.

Frederick W. Opel, of Jasper, Ind., jumped to his death from the third story window of a St. Louis sanatorium.

English Bachelor is 103.

On Friday May 1, Robert Crichton, England's oldest bachelor, entered his one hundred and third year. Some men are born bachelors—others have celibacy thrust upon them. Mr. Crichton, however, has remained a bachelor because he and his brother and sister, three-quarters of a century ago, formed a compact not to marry. Mr. Crichton was born in Perthshire and claims to be of the kin of "the Admirable Crichton" who flourished in the time of Queen Elizabeth. In 1837—the year after Queen Victoria came to the throne—Mr. Crichton sailed to Australia, and he recalls the fact that the journey took six months. Twenty years later, having accumulated a fair fortune, he returned with his brother and sister to England. He now lives at the Mardens, Caterham, Surrey, and is remarkably alert, taking a great interest in current events—particularly politics.

His Freedom Costly.

Danville, Ky., May 18.—Clarence Adams, a prisoner in the Danville workhouse, has a unique record to his credit. Six years ago he was given a sentence of thirty days for some trivial offense. After serving a week he escaped and his original sentence was extended to ten times its first length. He shortly escaped again and got ten times the second sentence. He now has fifteen years to serve for escaping, and has already served four years during the past six. He was recaptured last week.

Didn't Pan Out.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, Western lumber king, was "discovered" by a yellow magazine which painted him as being as rich as John D. Rockefeller. He died the other day, leaving less than a million. John C. Mayo was hardly known to magazine readers, but he was ten times wealthier than Weyerhaeuser. The conclusion is that magazines are often yellower than yellow journals.—Frankfort Journal.

Chicken Gapes.

A good prevention of gapes is to keep a small piece of gum camphor or asafetida in the drinking water. An excellent remedy is a piece of gum camphor, about the size of a grain of wheat, forced down the throat of the afflicted chick. It may be necessary to repeat the dose daily for several days.

Still At It.

The plant bed of Martin Taylor, another Davies county farmer, was scraped by "night riders."

Hybrid Bird.

One of the rarest specimens of hybrid birds on record was presented to the Overton park zoo at Memphis by L. A. Dinwiddie. The bird is part guinea and part turkey. It closely resembles the turkey in form, but has the guinea's cackle and the feathers of the latter fowl. It was hatched on a Mississippi farm and is valued at $500.

Summer Training School*For Sunday School Workers.

Preparations are being made for a Training School for Sunday School workers to be held in Lexington, Ky., June 11-19, 1914, under the auspices of the Kentucky Christian Bible School Association to which the Disciples of Christ throughout the State are looking forward as one of their most important religious events of the year. Courses will be offered in Bible Study, Religious Pedagogy, Child Study, Sunday School Administration, Missions and Social Service by a strong faculty composed of four college professors and as many Sunday School specialists. A feature of the program will be three simultaneous departmental sections under competent supervision giving training in the special work of the Elementary, Secondary and Adult Divisions. The morning of each day will be devoted to class work, the afternoon to study, conference and recreation, and the evening to special lectures and the departmental sections.

The faculty as announced by the Dean, Walter E. Frazee, of Louisville, who as State Superintendent of the Kentucky Christian Bible School Association is arranging all the details of the school is as follows:

All sessions of the school will be held in the chapel and class rooms of the College of the Bible while the students will be entertained in the dormitories of the Hamilton College.

This is the Third Annual School of this character held by the Association. Over two hundred and fifty students were enrolled last year representing one hundred and nineteen churches. A class of 106 took the complete course and received International certificates, which has the record of being the largest class graduated among the Disciples of Christ. Preparations are being made for over three hundred this year.

Miss Oey Bartley is visiting the family of Mr. W. A. Scroube, near Oak Grove.

L. G. Shanklin and family, of Gallup, New Mexico, are visiting Mrs. Sue C. Shanklin.

Manager Ward Snyder, Henderson third baseman, had a bone in his right arm broken Monday afternoon by a pitched ball thrown by Johnson of Owensboro. The fracture occurred late in the afternoon in a game with Owensboro. Snyder's injury puts Henderson in a position to get a manager who is not a champion ring-chewer.

Mrs. Otho Anderson has returned home after a visit of several weeks to relatives in Morganfield.

Mrs. Fanny May Owsley, who now makes her home with her son Dan Owsley, at Mt. Vernon, Ill., is here on a visit.

Dr. R. H. Perry and Mrs. Perry, of Dawson, are on a visit to relatives here.

Mrs. E. J. Beale, of Murray, is visiting her parents, Judge T. P. Cook and wife.

Fashion Notes.

Some of the new coat sleeves incline to the bishop shape.

Stripes and plain colors are everywhere seen in combination.

Gold brocaded chiffon makes some of the prettiest bodices to the summer evening gowns.

Bright-hued sashes appear beneath lingerie puffed skirts.

Jewels set flat are used in the clasps of the finer handbags.

All the girls seem to be wearing balmacaans or check top coats.

Washable tango girdles may now be had stamped for embroidering.

Tartan silks combined with plain materials make up many chic toilets.

Biscuit and tan are frequently seen instead of white evening gloves.

Silk and duvetyne is another seasonable combination in the tailored suit.

A new type of novelty tweed coat has the effect in the back of a double cape.

Huge circular capes to match the gowns are being much worn by smart women.

An odd little new suit has a straight coat finished with a ruffle of the same material.

USING THE TOBACCO SPRAYS

Particularly Valuable for All Kinds of Aphids—Should Be Applied About the First of June.

(By A. L. MELANDER, Washington Experiment Station.)

The tobacco sprays are particularly valuable for all kinds of aphids, including those species affecting house plants. The woolly aphid, blackberry aphid, the leaf hopper, red spider, flea beetles and young scale insects all can be controlled by this spray. This makes probably the best spray for oyster shell bark louse, and should be given for that insect as soon as the young hatch, usually about June 1.

Although primarily a contact spray with tobacco spray kills by suffocation. For this reason it surpasses other contact remedies like kerosene emulsion or whale oil soap.

After an aphid has curled a leaf it is difficult to control it with other contact remedies, because the aphid is protected from such remedies, but a drip of tobacco spray on the leaf will give a fume which will prevent the breathing of the aphid, and this can be depended on, even though the leaves of the tree are badly curled.

Fun for the Baby, but Bad for the Tree.

The tobacco sprays are coming more and more into general use. The depredations of the various forms of plant lice are so great that the most effective remedies should be made use of in controlling them.

BIG FACTOR IN INCUBATION

Causes of Lower Percentage in Artificial Hatching Is Matter of Considerable Conjecture.

The question of the cause or causes of the lower hatching percentage that commonly characterizes artificial incubation when compared with results obtained when eggs are set under hens, is a matter about which there is considerable conjecture, but little definite knowledge.

In connection with various theories that have been advanced and several experiments that have been made, it is perhaps suggestive that investigators have recently inclined to the opinion that unsatisfactory results are probably due in greater measure than is generally supposed to an excess of ventilation.

Several authorities are mentioned in support of the statement that there is a larger amount of carbon dioxide in the air surrounding the eggs that are naturally hatched than in a well-ventilated incubator, and the question is raised as to whether and to what extent it may be an essential factor in incubation.

USE OF GREEN FERTILIZERS

Most Approved Method of Renewing Depleted Soil Is to Plow Under Some Green Crop.

The plowing under of green crops, like peas, oats, clover, alfalfa and other grasses, is, next to a liberal use of barnyard manure, the most approved method of renewing a depleted soil and of maintaining the fertility of new land.

Where this is practised in connection with a rotation of crops there need be no fear of any deterioration in the soil. Indeed, if a sufficiency of livestock is kept and the products of the farm mainly transformed into beef, mutton and poultry before being sold, the land will grow richer and more valuable with each successive year.

Poor Planter Is Expensive.

If the corn planter gave trouble last spring, better order a new one now. A poor corn planter is an expensive implement to use. Even though the planter dropped satisfactorily last year, it should be tested with this year's seed supply before planting time arrives.

Bean Growing.

In extending bean growing into new territory there are no positive rules to be followed. Simply try out some of the different varieties and watch results.

NEED ONLY CULTIVATE BRAIN

Altogether Unnecessary for Successful Writers to Get Into Perfect Physical Condition.

James Francis Dwyer, author of tales of adventure, believes that the first step toward success in writing is to let one's muscles get flabby.

Many famous authors have had original theories as to what helps the muse. Shelley used to lie on the hearth rug with his head close to the blaze; Schiller kept his desk drawer full of decaying apples; Balzac drank bowls of black coffee; H. G. Wells is said to believe that the first essential is to ruin one's digestion.

Mr. Dwyer, however, says the first thing is to abolish the old hosh about a sound mind requiring the body of an expert athlete. "I used to be a first-class amateur prize fighter," he said. "My muscles were as hard as iron, and I acted as sparing partner for the Australian lightweight champion. But I found that for all my perfect physical trim I couldn't write half a column in the evenings. I gave up the body culture and decided to cultivate my writing instead. So the first thing to do if you want to be a great writer is to let your muscles get flabby and grow a bay window. Look at Chesterton."

ISLAND OF SORROW.

A fishing disaster is reported from Fuglo, in the Faroe islands, north of the Shetlands, which resulted in one of the smaller islands being almost denuded of its male population. Twenty-six of the twenty-seven men on the island set out a week or two ago on a fishing expedition in small boats, all of which were swamped, and every man was drowned in a terrific gale. The only man left on the island is too old for work, and he alone is left to protect the wives and families of the drowned men.

TYPICAL NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON THE REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OF 1913

The Tri-City Daily, Florence, Ala., says: "Florence has been captured entirely by the Redpath Chautauqua and it is a safe bet that the chautauqua will not be allowed to pass this city by in the future."

In an editorial in the Albany, Ga., Herald this statement is made: "Thru this big organization with a string of 110 chautauquas scheduled we were enabled to have attractions that we could not have secured for a single assembly."

The Dyersburg, Tenn., State Gazette said editorially: "We will all be sorry when it becomes necessary for them to fold their tents, but unlike the Arabs it will not be necessary for them to steal away."

The Clarksville, Tenn., Leaf-Chronicle "Now that our good people know from actual experience just what are the possibilities of the Chautauqua movement they are unanimously agreed as to its great helpfulness to a community."

The Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald says: "The tent which holds over 2000 persons was well filled when the performance began last night and altho the weather was hot every part of the program was received with much enthusiasm. Indications are that from now on large crowds will patronize the chautauqua performances. The Redpath agency which is giving the program is well known as one of the foremost booking agencies of the world."

The Alpena, Mich., Echo: "When Mr. Rheinfrank asked those of the audience who would like a chautauqua in Alpena next year to stand, the entire audience arose. It was necessary to call an imposing vote."

The Battle Creek, Mich., Enquirer: "The Best Ever Chautauqua grows more popular with each succeeding entertainment."

The Gary, Ind., Post: "It is doubtful if any chautauqua in any city has ever had such overwhelming success during its first year as the Redpath Chautauqua had here during its present engagement."

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

People of Prominence In The Pearl City of The Penny-royal.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 11.

Frank G. Fox, Pres. of The Fox Bros. Co., Its Rapidly Expanding Business and New Creamery.

Hopkinsville's greatest need is for more manufactories. So thoroughly is this recognized, that it has long been the policy of successive city administrations to exempt from municipal taxes, for a period of five years, any new manufacturing enterprises that could be induced to locate in the city.

The latest such enterprise to become a factor in the business of Greater Hopkinsville, is The Fox Bros. Company, Incorporated, manufacturers of creamery butter and ice cream. The officers of this company are Frank G. Fox, President; W. J. Kirk, of Madisonville, Vice

FRANK G. FOX.

President; Jos. J. Fox, Secretary and Treasurer. Frank G. Fox is also general manager, assisted by Wm. J. Fox. The place of business is at First and Railroad streets, where a new addition to the building already on the lot has just been completed and occupied.

This company is the out growth of a branch of the business of The Peter Fox Sons Co., of Chicago, which began the business of dressing and shipping poultry for the holiday trade here seven or eight years ago. They found poultry selling at about eight cents and by furnishing a ready market they quickly caused prices to advance two or three cents a pound. The first season the business, on a modest scale, amounted to $12,000 or $15,000. The next year the volume was doubled and it soon outgrew the quarters at Eighth and Water streets and the company moved further out to the present location, buying the building formerly used as a canning factory. Here, year by year, this poultry business has expanded, until the last season it amounted to $130,000.

Last December the company determined to do an annual business here and to that end put in a refrigerating plant, to enable the business to be carried on in hot weather.

Soon afterwards the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association started a campaign to induce the company, which had in the meantime been re-incorporated under the new name, to add a creamery department to the business. The company quickly agreed to do so on certain easy conditions, the principal one being that enough cows be pledged to start on a good basis. This condition was quickly met and the company lost no time in erecting the new building and equipping it with every modern appliance for such a plant. The enterprise now represents an outlay of $35,000. Its cream patrons have increased in 30 days from 17 to 59, and the business is growing by leaps and bounds. The first 17 days it operated, the creamery paid to the farmers for cream $764.19. For the month of May it will be $100 a day.

The poultry business will of course be pushed for all it is worth in the fall. Just now the company is buying what comes to it and is pushing the butter business. On Saturday, May 23, it will observe "Rooster Day" by paying the market price of hens for all roosters brought to them when matings are broken up.

The plant here is one of nine houses operated by the Foxes. The parent house is in Chicago, where the company founded by the late Peter Fox and now carried on by seven of his nine sons is handling dressed poultry on a big scale. The original head of the house died Feb. 26, 1913. Their branch plants are at Fon du Lac, Byron, Campbellsport, Three Lakes and Luxemborg, Wisconsin; Crookston, Minnesota; St. Ansgar, Iowa, and Hopkinsville, Ky. Frank G. Fox, whose portrait appears in this article, has become a citizen of Hopkinsville. He will move his family here this week and occupy a cottage on Central avenue. His brother, M. E. Fox, who is the financial man of all the houses, is here this week helping to start the creamery off in good shape.

Frank Fox is a member of the Southern Poultry Association and has identified himself with the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association.

The house here retails ice cream and has an auto-truck for quick deliveries anywhere in the city. The butter made will not be retailed, but may be obtained from the leading grocers of this city and other cities in this section.

Four of the "Fox boys" are here a part of the time. They all bear a strong family resemblance and all are capable, energetic and wide-awake business men. Hopkinsville is fortunate in having them identified with its commercial life.

Crutchfield-Grady.

Dr. R. R. Grady and Mrs. Grady, of Trenton, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Nella Evans, to Charles C. Crutchfield, Jr., of Hopkinsville. The wedding will take place at Runnymede Farm, the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday evening, May 27.

New Primary Law.

No one but a dyed-in-the-wool partisan may vote in Kentucky primary under the amended primary law, enacted by the General Assembly. The amended act strictly defines the qualification in the law that a voter must be a member of the party for whose nominees he intends to vote and shall have affiliated with the party. It says "no person shall be deemed to have affiliated with the party for whose nominees he intends to cast his vote if he voted against the nominee or nominees of such party at the last general election." The act also does away with the requirement for a certain percentage of electors signing a petition to get the name of a candidate on the primary ballot and requires only the petition of the candidate, accompanied by the affidavit of two electors as to his eligibility. Where there is only one candidate, the officer with whom the candidate's is filed may issue him a certificate of nomination.

Unused ballots are required to be so stamped and returned to the County Clerk.

"Holy Grail" Broken.

The so-called "Holy Grail," in the Cathedral at Genoa, Italy, was broken beyond repairs recently. It was brought to Genoa in 1101 among the spoils of the conquest of Caesarea. It was an octagonal glass cup, which tradition claimed Christ drank from at the Last Supper.

Kentuckian Murdered.

W. M. Boone, for years a resident of Versailles, Ky., was murdered and his body thrown into a lake near St. Petersburg, Fla., according to news received by his daughter.
